DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This is a row of eight brick, 2-1/2 story houses, detached on the left side, sixteen bays wide and approximately three bays in depth with four "T" shaped wings two bays in depth and four narrow bays wide with rear balconies, except #207. This has been raised to three stories, and the two story wing extended to three bays in depth. All brickwork is in common bond. Front entrances occupy the inner bays of each pair of houses with most having original Victorian stick style glass paned doors and plain transoms. On either side of these doors are wide windows and second story windows are of regular size with all front windows being of 1/1 sash with two or three row header segmental arches as over the doors. All second story front windows are protected by louvered shutters. The first floor front areas of all except #207 have individual narrow covered porches supported by original Doric columns or newer New Orleans style metal grills. #207 retains an old ornamental cast iron porch with newer wrought iron railings. The third story front of #207 is lighted by two 1/1 sash shallow peaked dormer windows with dentil trim projecting from a slate covered bell-shaped mansard roof trimmed by floral motifs in slate with a band of dentils across the top. The attic areas are lighted by a 4/4 peaked dormer window on the rear of each house except #207, and #215 & 221 also have 6/6 sash front dormer windows with 215 having a hipped roof and #201 being peaked and with double windows. Rear area windows are all 6/6 sash with two row segmental arches on the rear of the front section and thin wooden lintels on the wings. There are glass over paneled doors. The front sections have moderate slope "A" frame slate roofs except for #207 which has a metal roof sloping to the rear from the mansard section. The wings have low slope "A" frame roofs of metal. Large square chimneys rise above the ridgeline between each pair of houses. The front roof cornice is of three string brick with the middle row in dentils. The building sets on a low foundation and all houses are fronted by brick pavements.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

This row of turn-of-the-century houses retains Federal characteristics. The owner, Mr. Earl Gastley, was told by his father that a prominent early businessman, Mr. Kolb, used this area as a holding yard for his stock processing building and obtained the bricks for these houses around the turn of the century from the demolition of the Catholic Novitiate on E. Second Street, one block away.
